Workshop: Making the Invisible Visible: Persephone In and Out of Hades

Prof. Zina Giannopoulou, UC Irvine, Classics

In this workshop, Prof. Giannopoulou will explore the politics of marriage through this beloved myth. Although this is not a myth that has escaped attention, this myth is about invisibility (of the bride in general, of Persephone in particular, and of marriage as an institution that makes Greek women invisible) and the forces that make a bride visible (her mother or nature).

Workshop: Mathematicians of the Ancient World

Dr. Drew Ishii, Sage Hill Math Department

You know about Roman numerals, but did you know that there were Greek numerals, too? In this session we will take a journey through the mathematics and the mathematicians of the Classical and Hellenistic Periods. The mathematicians living in this period greatly contributed to the fields of geometry and number theory. You are probably familiar with many of the concepts, and we will explore even more works of these brilliant minds.

Candidates' Workshop: Meet some current CAJCL officers and learn about their roles if you are interested in running for a position at State Convention.

Fugepilam: Compete against other schools in dodgeball.
